

Assistant Professor | Tenure-track

The Institute of Mental Health in association with the Department of Psychiatry, Faculty of Medicine at the University of British Columbia invites applications for a full-time, tenure track clinician scientist. The position is expected to be filled at the rank of Assistant Professor.

The successful candidate must either have an M.D. qualification (or equivalent) and be eligible for licensure by the College of Physicians and Surgeons of British Columbia, or hold a Ph.D. in a related discipline and be eligible for licensure by the College of Psychologists of British Columbia. He/she will provide evidence of ability in teaching and scholarly activity (or the potential to meet this criteria), and must have demonstrated promise as an independent investigator in the domain of Psychotherapy Research. The successful candidate will be expected to work collaboratively with other clinicians and scientists committed to related research. He/she will also be expected to participate in teaching at the undergraduate, graduate or postgraduate level.

The UBC Institute of Mental Health has the mandate to create new knowledge relevant to mental illnesses and to translate this into clinical practice. The position is based primarily on the main UBC campus in Vancouver, a vibrant multicultural city abounding with cultural and recreational opportunities and which The Economist has deemed to be the world’s most liveable city for the past five years.

Salary will be commensurate with qualifications and experience.

Additional information can be obtained by visiting www.psychiatry.ubc.ca or by contacting the Department Head’s office at 604 822 7310 or by email at corinne.carpenter@ubc.ca.

Institute of Mental Health

www.psychiatry.ubc.ca

Applications, including curriculum vitae, evidence of teaching effectiveness, statement of teaching and research interests and plans, and four letters of reference addressing professional, research and teaching qualifications and contributions should be sent to:

Janie McCallum
Human Resources Manager
UBC Department of Psychiatry
Detwiller Pavilion, Room 2C1
2255 Wesbrook Mall
Vancouver, B.C. V6T 2A1
Email: janie.mccallum@ubc.ca

Closing date: The review of the applications will begin February 1, 2012 and will continue until the position is filled.

Anticipated starting date of this position: September 1, 2012

The University of British Columbia is one of the world’s best universities known for its academic excellence, top caliber students, and an international reputation for excellence in advanced research and learning.

The Faculty of Medicine at UBC, together with its partners including B.C.’s Health Authorities, provides innovative programs in the areas of health and life sciences through a province-wide delivery model. The Faculty teaches students at the undergraduate, graduate and postgraduate levels and generates more than $240 million in research funding each year, throughout the province.

THE UNIVERSITY OF BRITISH COLUMBIA

UBC hires on the basis of merit and is committed to employment equity. All qualified persons are encouraged to apply. UBC is strongly committed to diversity within its community and especially welcomes applications from visible minority group members, women, Aboriginal persons, persons with disabilities, personal of any sexual orientation or gender identity, and others who may contribute to the further diversification of ideas. However, Canadian and permanent residents of Canada will be given priority.