ABOUT MOVEMBER

During November each year, Movember is responsible for the sprouting of moustaches on thousands of men’s faces, in Canada and around the world. With their “Mo’s”, these men raise vital funds and awareness for men’s health, specifically prostate cancer and men’s mental health initiatives.

On Movember 1st, guys register at movember.com with a clean-shaven face. For the rest of the month, these selfless and generous men, known as Mo Bros, groom, trim and wax their way into the annals of fine moustachery. Supported by the women in their lives, Mo Sistas, Movember Mo Bros raise funds by seeking out sponsorship for their Mo-growing efforts.

Mo Bros effectively become walking, talking billboards for the 30 days of November. Through their actions and words, they raise awareness by prompting private and public conversation around the often ignored issue of men’s health.

Now, through the Canadian Men’s Health Network, Movember Canada seeks innovative interventions/proposals to address the challenges of men’s mental health.
ABOUT THE CANADIAN MEN’S HEALTH NETWORK

The Canadian Men’s Health Network is an Advisory Committee to Movember Canada and is comprised of members from varying backgrounds and geographic regions of Canada. The Committee is overseeing the process for the distribution of funding to the current priority area of the Network - boys’ and men’s mental health. Funded organizations and individuals will work in collaborative, innovative efforts towards the achievement of results on the mental health of boy’s and men in Canada. Further details of the Canadian Men’s Health Network can be found at: http://ca.movember.com/about/health-network/

DESCRIPTION

With this funding announcement, Movember Canada invites applications from organizations in Canada to pursue innovation and ideas to achieve the following:

- Reduce the stigma of boys’ and men suffering from a mental health condition across all stages of life (childhood and adolescence, as well as young, mid, and later adulthood) to enable them to step forward to seek the help and care of health care professionals.
- Raise awareness and knowledge of boys’ and men’s mental health concerns through education in schools, colleges, communities and workplaces.
- Define and develop interventions (e.g. social, communication, education, and advocacy) which lead to the prevention of mental illness or enable early recognition and treatment among boys and men.

Using the funds raised through Movember Canada as part of the 2012 Campaign, Movember Canada is providing funding, administered by the Canadian Men’s Health Network, of up to $12 million over 3 years. This is an unprecedented opportunity for the Canadian mental health community to achieve significant results on boys’ and men’s mental health.

The Network will fund a minimum of 3 major initiatives - minimum value of each project is $500,000 per year; the maximum value of each project is $1 million per year for 3 years - $3 million per project. Anticipated expenditures can exceed the maximum value of $1 million in a given year but the total over the 3 year term of the grant cannot exceed $3 million. A limited number of smaller grants may also be awarded for projects that effectively embody the creative elements that have helped make Movember successful. Awards in this category may be more local but should pilot themes or ideas that could be generalized.

This is a two step application process that includes: 1) an administrative notice of intent to apply and 2) the full application. Movember seeks to catalyze partnered, collaborative interventions.

BACKGROUND AND OBJECTIVES

Movember Canada seeks applications for mental health interventions in the priority areas of de-stigmatization, prevention, education or early recognition/interventions. The network seeks to support strategic investments in collaborative efforts which span multiple organizations and regions and serve as a catalyst for innovative, outcomes focused interventions. This funding opportunity recognizes that there is tremendous capacity in Canada for the development and implementation of mental health interventions but there is also a great deal of fragmentation – this opportunity is designed to catalyze and leverage this existing capacity and better coordinate and support boys’ and men’s mental health care.

Specific Objectives of this funding opportunity:

1. To stimulate collaborative, inter-organizational, pan-Canadian interventions with a focus on men's mental health.
2. To support inter-disciplinary and multi-institutional groups of talented mental health researchers/clinicians/advocates/administrators.

3. To support high quality interventions designed to address important boys’ and men’s mental health problems which are best approached through collaborative efforts across multiple organizations.

4. To support the creation, translation and dissemination of new knowledge leading to outcomes.

It is expected that goals of the anticipated interventions and projects will be complex, and that results will only be achieved more rapidly and efficiently through an interdisciplinary, collaborative effort as opposed to a series of separate, non-collaborative efforts dotting the Canadian Landscape.

To assist organizations to identify themselves to the CMHN and to each other, Promoveo, Movember’s online knowledge sharing platform, will be used. After submitting your intent to apply, you will have an opportunity to nominate contributors who you may wish to link up with. You will be provided with a username and password to access the Promoveo platform.

ELIGIBILITY

Each intervention will include:

A lead organization and a project leader(s): the project leader must be an established leader with the requisite leadership skills and experience and who is willing to act as the project director. This leader will assume strategic and administrative responsibility for the funding. It is expected that the project intervention leader(s) will devote a significant and appropriate portion of his/her time to the effort.

Additional project members, who collectively have an extensive record of success, are creative and original in their approach to boys’ and men mental health challenges. The specific contribution of each project member must be described.

Representation from across Canada (a minimum of 3 provinces and territories) and from different professional area backgrounds is strongly preferred.

A robust evaluation plan, ideally done in combination with a specialist who has extensive experience and credentials in program evaluation (e.g. a certified evaluator) to ensure knowledge transfer and future project sustainability - sufficient budget should be allocated in recognition of the importance of this component.

Movember Canada will only provide funding to “qualified donees” in terms of the Canadian Income Tax Act. Therefore, the lead organization or proposed contracting entity must be a qualified donee.

In addition, the following special conditions apply:

The members of the project may pursue other activities in addition to their commitment to this project, but each individual must contribute sufficient time to the project to ensure the achievement of the project’s results objectives.

Finally, the area of boys’ and men’s mental health interventions to be pursued via this project opportunity must be relevant to one of the three areas currently of special interest to the CMHN, such as:

- De-stigmatization
- Awareness and knowledge of mental health conditions of boys and men in Canada through education.
- Prevention or early recognition/intervention.

The full application must clearly identify under which of these theme areas the proposed project falls and how the project intervention is relevant to the theme.
ALLOWABLE COSTS

The following expenditures will be considered eligible for funding received through this opportunity:

- Project operating costs for the proposed collaborative program/intervention, which must be distinct in its objectives from those for which groups members currently receive funding.
- Costs of data collection, database management, database integration and maintenance.
- Costs of regional, national or international networking activities, including collaboration, planning, and knowledge exchange activities.
- Salaries of research assistants, coordinators, technicians, administrative staff, and other personnel who will enhance the collaborative research productivity of the team.
- Costs involved in linkage with and dissemination of findings to targeted recipients/end users and to those professionals who will use the knowledge established in the project to achieve successfully the project’s goals.

INELIGIBLE COSTS

- Institutional overhead costs.
- Tuition and professional membership dues.
- Capital Costs, including costs associated with construction, renovation or rental of offices, laboratories or other supporting facilities.
- Secondary grants and awards issued by the award recipient.
COMMUNICATION REQUIREMENTS

Funding recipients are required to acknowledge Movember Canada in all communication or publication related to this funding opportunity. In addition, project funding recipients are also required to adhere to Movember branding requirements as a condition of the project award. The award name must be used in all communication and promotion related to the Movember Award. An award name must be proposed as part of the application. Recognition guidelines including instructions on Movember logo use, will be provided to successful applicants as part of the approval package.

PERFORMANCE MEASUREMENT

Movember and The Canadian Men’s Health Network are committed to collecting and disseminating information on the impacts of its interventions towards boys’ and men’s mental health. This outcome information is an important part of Movember’s accountability and transparency with its community.

The Project Leader(s) will be required to submit annual reports and an end of funding report 6 months following the end of this 3 year funding opportunity. The format of the report will be made available to the successful project lead at the beginning of the funding period and can be filled in as the project progresses.

In addition, the project leader(s) must contribute to the monitoring, review and evaluation of their project by participating in requested media events, evaluation studies, surveys, audits, and workshops as required by the CMHN for the purposes of collecting information to assess progress and results.

KNOWLEDGE TRANSLATION STRATEGY

The project requires a comprehensive knowledge translation strategy that will take the knowledge achieved by the project and use it to advance the project’s goals. This could take the form of advancements in clinical practice; improvements in service delivery; and, an acceleration and dissemination of education, early recognition and awareness mechanisms. Recipients of the knowledge generated by the project are required to be identified and engaged in the project’s design, early on, in order to optimize the results the project will achieve.
REVIEW PROCESS

An international peer review panel (with national and international expertise) will be convened to evaluate the project applications. The panel will be created specifically for this funding opportunity. Panel members will be selected based on their breadth of knowledge and expertise in boys’ and men’s mental health.

Applications will be rated and ranked according to the following evaluation criteria. All received applications will be reviewed in terms of their correspondence to Movember’s goals for this funding initiative.

EVALUATION CRITERIA

One: Alignment and fit with Movember Canada’s goals for this funding initiative:

- The goals of the project are clearly described
- The goals fit Movember objectives for this funding initiative.

Ratings
1. The proposed project goals do not fit with any Movember goal areas.
2. The proposed project goals somewhat fits with one of the Movember goal areas.
3. The proposed project goals somewhat fits with more than one of the Movember goal areas.
4. The proposed project goals clearly fit with one of the Movember goal areas.

Proposals that are rated one or two would not be considered further. Projects which are rated three or four would be assessed against the following evaluation criteria.

Two: Significance/Innovation of the Project

- The project is advancing a new way of addressing boys’ and men’s mental health.
- The project has demonstrated it is addressing a significant area of boys’ and men’s mental health.
- The project will contribute to and expand the existing knowledge in the area of boys’ and men’s mental health.

Ratings
